Welcome

ANU Open Day gives you the opportunity to discover all that our campus has to offer, with advice on enrolment, university life and a range of undergraduate and graduate program courses covering Art to Zoology.

Start with a welcome by the Deputy Vice-Chancellor Professor Marnie Hughes-Warrington, at 9.30am in the Manning Clark Centre, followed by introductory talks about programs from 10am–3pm. In the ANU Sport and Recreation Centre representatives from every teaching area will be providing advice on undergraduate and graduate programs and ideas for study options. Across campus different areas will be putting on displays, seminars and concerts, including musical performances, artistic endeavours, engineering feats and scientific demonstrations.

ANU Open Day online survey – win an iPhone

For your chance to win an unlocked iPhone 4S 16GB Black (sim card not included) valued at $799, enter the draw by completing the ANU Open Day online survey.

The survey opens Saturday 25 August 2012, 9am and closes Friday 7 September 2012, 12am. The prize will be selected by random draw on Monday 10 September 2012, 3pm.

Current ANU staff and students are ineligible to enter this competition. Refer to website for further information and terms and conditions.

Complete the online survey:

School of Music

Venue: ANU School of Music (Llewellyn Hall) [100]

In 2013, a new Bachelor of Music degree will be available that offers performance amongst other aspects of music education for the 21st century. If you are keen to pursue a career such as a composer, performer, multi-media artist, or educator, come along and learn about the new subjects. You will have the opportunity to attend master classes, concerts and information sessions at the School of Music. Highlights of the day will include an open choir and orchestra rehearsal in Llewellyn Hall. Bring your own instrument if you'd like to play! Prospective students will have the opportunity to learn more about the new courses the School of Music offers and enjoy great coffee and music in Biginelli's Café. 11am–3pm.

The Classics Museum

Venue: A.D. Hope Building [14]

The Classics Museum will be open from 10am–3pm with tours at 11am, and 1pm. The museum houses a representative collection of Greek and Roman antiquities, ranging in time from about 1500BC to 500AD. Built up from 1962, the collection gives students, scholars and the wider community the opportunity to study the material evidence for life in those ancient societies. Our collection includes items from well-known centres such as Athens and Rome, along with material from many other parts of the Greco-Roman Empire – a world that once encompassed the whole of the Mediterranean and beyond. Its cultural impact remains as strong today as it ever did.

For further details of events to be held in the School of Art, School of Music and the Classics Museum please see the ANU College of Arts and Social Sciences Open Day website at cass.anu.edu.au/openday2012
